Dear Parents,

Welcome back to a full week! We stayed busy with our new reading activities, see below, and a new math unit on sorting. We sorted items by characteristics, counted them, and put them in order from least to greatest. We rocked it!

In science, we talked about eating the rainbow of many colored fruits and vegetables, how plants grow, and that breakfast is the most important meal of the day to get our brains and bodies going! We are challenging ourselves in the lunch line to try the 5 food groups and I hope you are using this to your benefit to have your child try new things at home too!

We practiced event writing and I was amazed at how well the kids are doing! We will try the assessment this week.

Mr. H has Happy Hair!

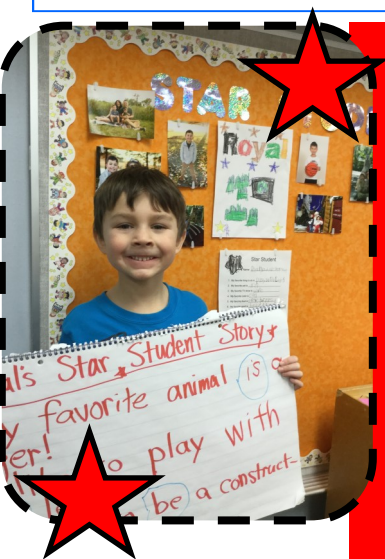

Mr. H bragged a bit about his handsome hair and refused to get a haircut! We loved his book about the Right Day for a Haircut! We attempted to write our own Mr. H adventure in our journals this week and it went well for many!

In addition to our usual routines we added many new reading activities that were part of our hockey ticket goals.

We learned how to do our red words book, blending board, have our own vowel cards and, our favorite, writing sounds in sand trays!

Royal Nahno-Kerchee

loved sharing his handsome pictures & being a great leader in the halls!
