

Kindergarten News

Mrs. Dangel's Class

March 6th, 2020

Michelle.Dangel@southeastpolk.org

Dear Parents,

We started out our week with our music performance rehearsals and did a great job Monday night. Then we had 3 days with our great guest teacher Ms. Calise while Mrs. Dangel was home sick. Thank you to the students who did their best for our guest and kept learning!

We enjoyed some fun stories this week to finish our dental health unit for science. We also learned about animal habitats and wrote about this for our writing practice on Thursday. We talked about what animals need to survive and shelter in their habitat is one of the facts we needed! Can your child tell you what an animal needs to survive?

In math we are almost done with our measurement unit. We now know how to measure items by height, length and weight. We enjoyed comparing height with friends in class and the length of our names using cubes. We will review these skills on Monday and then will do the assessment. We will also learn how to tell time to the hour next week. It will be a busy week!

We will enjoy Dr. Seuss books as well as other great stories next week. There will not be a letter person either so there will not be any homework coming home on Wednesday. The math glossary in the homework bag is yours to keep!

Books We Read Together

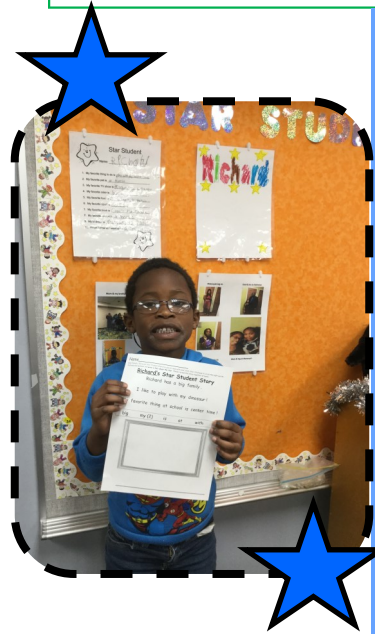

- *This is the Way (Ms. V)
- *Bear Snores On
- *Animal Habitats
- *The spider and the fly
- *Ms. V's Vacation
- *Cat in the Hat
- *Moose's Loose Tooth
- *Tooth Trouble
- small group books for Ms. V about animal habitats.

Sight words: by, said, want

*Please review ALL sight words., the words are getting harder and take many repetitions.

Richard Eubanks

was our star student and loved sharing about his family and favorite things!

Upcoming Dates

Monday March 9th-Pajama Day, return report card envelopes

Tuesday March 10th-wear a favorite outfit and socks

-conferences 4-8pm

Wednesday March 11th-wear exercise or team clothing

Thursday March 12th- wear travel clothes EARLY Dismissal as conferences start at 12:30

no school Friday March 13th

Spring break March 16th-20th

Ms. V has a Vegetable Vest and encouraged us to try new veggies!

- We enjoyed marching to her song, writing facts about her in our journal, and proving her sound for our V puzzle on Friday. It was fun to imagine visiting the places in her vacation book, many students were fascinated with Venice, Italy!

Happy 6th Birthday to Zoe Moore on March 3rd!

